LARGE FISH CAUGHT IN COUNTY CONTEST

It gives me great pleasure to announce the results of the Haliburton County fishing contest for the summer of 1955. The entries came in from every corner of our county, and many native people of this district were amazed at some of the large fish taken in lakes not well known for large fish.

The contest has proven a huge success from the very beginning of its opening and has been of considerable interest to one and all. To quote Pete McGillan, outdoors reporter of the Toronto Telegram: "This contest will prove to be the greatest advertisement ever for the County of Haliburton. Do not drop it—continue it next year."

I would like to point out that without the support of the business people, who got behind this contest financially, it could never have happened. The above mentioned supporters, whom you all know, deserve all of the credit for making this contest possible. The prizes were most generous and the supporters may well feel proud because the awards were as good financially as any fishing contest anywhere [illegible] sent to every contestant so that they may know how they stood regarding the entries.

And so once again supporters and entrants, thank you very much for your co-operation. Until fishing time for the year 1956, I remain,

Yours sincerely,
Jack Rule.

COUNTY'S FIRST FOOD CHAIN OPENS SOON

An advertisement on page seven of this paper conveys to you an invitation to be present at the opening of the first modern IGA chain store in Haliburton County. The invitation is extended by the owner of this store, Mr. John A. Robertson.

Mr. Robertson is a well known business man in Haliburton having resided here since 1928 when he purchased the business of Harry Easton.

Despite the great depression and its many business headaches Jack never lost faith in the future of this area and during this period he installed the first electric refrigeration, chopper and slicer in Haliburton.

In order to meet the demands of his ever-expanding business, Mr. Robertson was forced to seek more spacious quarters and in 1940 he purchased the home of Walter E. Austin, to which he built an [illegible] front. [illegible] his ear to the ground [illegible] his eyes on the future Jack, in 1950, modernized his store and went self-service, adding a dairy counter and frozen foods.

Mr. Robertson must be a firm believer in the old proverb "when your through changing — your through," because when he began to sense that the old spirit of "buy at home" had been substituted to buy where it could best suit the purse and that a goodly number of citizens were clubbing together and buying their groceries at out-of-town chains.

He began to look for a remedy and came to the realization that the remedy was in the I.G.A. set-up.

I.G.A. stands for Independent Grocers' Alliance, which means that he is an owner of one of the 130 I.G.A. stores, who as a group, are pledged to "buy for less and sell for less."

As a result of the tremendous purchasing power enjoyed by I.G.A. they are able to compete with Loblaws, etc.

Of course business in the net set-up is strictly cash with 25c extra being charged when goods purchased must be delivered.

In order to effect the necessary changes, the store [illegible] Islands [illegible] September [illegible] will be installed on Friday morning at 10 a.m. the grand openng takes place at which time you can take advantage of the many give-aways offered and accept Mr. Robertson's invitation to check his prices and avail yourselves of the opportunity of buying at home at outside chain store prices.

Old Favorites Sung At Western Show

Many well known western songs were sung and tunes played when Mabelle Seiger and her County Gentlemen of WWVA presented their show to an enthusiastic crowd at the Minden recreation centre on Wednesday evening.

The old time favorites were mixed with comedy, showing to advantage the fine talent of this group of entertainers who provided a most enjoyable evening which ended far too soon.

After the show a large crowd danced in the auditorium, and the entertainers left Minden happy at their enthusiastic reception and hoping to return next year with another show.

WILBERFORCE

Mr. A'Delbert Miller, president of the Wilberforce Trappers Council has advised us that their meeting is scheduled for Saturday night September 17 at the Wilberforce hall.

The guest speaker for the evening will be Mr. Swanson of Chapleau, who is the trap line manager of the Lindsay district of the Department of Lands and Forests.

Mr. Swanson was in the Northwest Territory serving the federal government before the war.

In 1946 he went to the Department of lands and forests and he was in charge of the Chapleau area. He was one of the first eight trap line managers in Ontario. Mr. Swanson has been employed with the Dept. of Lands and Forests the past two weeks at the Canadian National Exhibition.

At the meeting in Wilberforce next Saturday night Mr. Swanson will outline in his address the main highlights on how to look after your trapping zone.

It's one meeting that all trappers from this area should not miss. The meeting had previously been scheduled for September 10, but had to be changed until the 17 when Mr. Swanson could attend.

Free Chest X-ray In October

Mr. A. Stouffer, chairman of the Haliburton County x-ray survey committee reports that plans are well under way for the mass chest x-ray survey for the prevention of tuberculosis, which will take place throughout the county in the middle of October.

A tenative schedule has already been drawn up and dates will be released after the proposed clinic sites are inspected by a representative of the Department of Health for Ontario.

This inspection is to be made this week. Clinic sites have been decided upon and they will be in the following places: Gooderham, Tory Hill, Highland Grove, Wilberforce, Lochlin, West Guilford, Haliburton, Haliburton County high school, Carnarvon, Miner's Bay, Pine Springs and Minden.

"An all out campaign is planned so that more of our people will take advantage of this chest x-ray, " Mr. Stouffer said. "Our county residents have paid for it by their purchases of Christmas seals. The core of prevention is finding cases at the earliest possible moment and getting them treated so that they will not spread tuberculosis germs around. That is the reason for mass surveys, for clinics, for hospital admissions."

Dr. H. E. Good, medical officer of health, believes that in [illegible] preventative medicine [illegible] cable, ary. It [illegible] germs being spread from the sick to the well. Danger is greatest where the patient is unaware of his disease and consequently neither he nor those around him take the precautions which would check infection."

Traveler To Speak In United Church Sunday

An interesting service is planned [illegible] Clifford Manning. Instead the usual sermon Mr. Ifor Jones of Portage la Prairie, Man., will speak on his stay in Palestine where he served for a number of years with the Palestine Police.

He will relate an experience of sleeping in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre. We have heard of people sleeping in churches in Canada but we believe this to be unique for a Britisher in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

The markers were issued along with the 1.5 millionth motor vehicle permit which Mr. Anderson obtained by chance as a member of the Wednesday, July 20, line-up of applicants for permits at the Ontario parliament buildings' issuing offices. This was the first time in any year that issue of motor vehicle permits in Ontario reached the 1.5 million mark. COPPER JUMPS IN PRICE

by FRANK ROHATS
of Roford Mines

The ink on our short picture story had hardly dried when the price of copper was increased to 40c a pound as I had predicted in the review.

Since then the price has again increased and copper is now selling at 43c per pound and is definitely on its way according to the best information available to the 50c per pound range. I might add, that I am no crystal gazer in making these statements but I am only passing on information which I believe to be reliable. The signifigance can readily be seen as our copper property in the Normetal area is with every increase in the price of copper taking on much more importance. As you know, when we originally drilled the property during the summer of 1954 the price of copper was 30c per pound and if the copper continues to increase the way it has been, it will be commercial from the grass roots.

Our Bancroft area property is coming along exceptionally well as we have commenced a geiger survey on an entirely new group of claims which we have acquired which show exceptionally high geiger reading and it has indicated that we can expect to find substantial bodies of radio-active ores.

The Lindsay Chemical Co. is interested in the property from the thorium standpoint. They have assured us verbally that they would take all of the thorium and rare earth ores that we have o offer. We are presently awaiting the return of their vice-president from the Geneva conference where he is presently assessing thorium possibilities in regards to an atomic energy program. We feel that thorium could be very interesting as it has both industrial as well as military application and to this end we are preparing a booklet from reprints of various publications so you can familiarize yourself with this metal.

The writer has just returned from the Bancroft area where he has made a color movie story of Roford Mines and the surrounding areas. We plan to have a movie showing of the Bancroft area property as well as our Normetal property sometime in September.

Roford Mines is diversified and has copper, uranium, thorium, rare earth properties. These various minerals cover a host of applications from industrial right on through to military. We, therefore, urge you to take advantage of the present price of Roford shares at 40c as it is an excellent speculative investment.

We'll Be Seeing You

THOSE OF US who live in the Highlands feel this week like the hostess who has had for a time a houseful of company and has had them decide to leave all at the same time.

Yes, during the past two months we have had more guests in the Highlands of Haliburton than ever before but it seems that all that we have been hearing this week is "Good-bye, hope to see you next summer."

The great majority of resort owners have expressed themselves as being more than pleased with this year's business and in some cases reservations for accomodation next year amount to over 80% of this year's business.

We still have some visitors but our villages have not nearly so many people on their streets and in the stores and parking space is no longer at a premium.

As we drive through the county we can notice the leaves are beginning to change their color which makes us think of fuel and what condition our storm windows are in but we are already starting to work on tourist folders for 1956 and this fact serves to remind us that when winter comes spring cannot be far behind and with its coming we can again roll out the welcome mat and extend to our summer guests the following invitation.

Come back into the Highlands
And bask beneath our bright blue skies
For in this land of Haliburton
You'll find a summer paradise.

Big Business

LETTERS APPEARING in the Echo recently would seem to indicate that we have within our midst some real villains described in these letters as "big business" or "select group of businessmen."

I am fully aware that in a few cases, and they are few, some of our businessmen have resorted to sharp practices to gain a few shekels and there are a few of them who refuse to consider getting together on hours of closing, etc., but one thing I can say for the bulk of our business men, they are not afraid to gamble many thousands of dollars in their respective communities and are anxious to see the town in which they live go ahead.

A ball player or comedian may make $50,000 a year for a few hours work but if it ever was known that a local business man made one-tenth of that amount he would in all probability be classed along with Jesse James or John Dillinger.

The business man in this area who can obtain a place in the sun jolly well earns it and the terms "select" or "big business" in Haliburton county are, in our opinion, most ill-fitting.

WORLD'S LARGEST SUNDAY SCHOOL

The largest Sunday school in the world will meet for a new session on the second Sunday in September. There are 40,000 members. Sponsored by the Anglican church, the Sunday school of the air reaches children through 30 stations from Aklavil to St. John's. Heard locally over CFRB at 9.30 a.m. on Sunday the program reaches over 1 million people in this area each week. It is [illegible] of such popular p[illegible] as the Happy Gang [illegible] program in listener coverage.

Children who would otherwise receive little Christian education are enabled by the Sunday school of the air to take instruction in their own homes. Sunday school papers are mailed in advance to registered members. Regular contact is also kept with parents. They receive suggestions about home religious training from experts in the field of children's work.

The Sunday school of the air is particularly appreciated by disabled and shut-in children and by those who live in remote areas.

The Anglican church pioneered in the field of religious instruction through the mail 50 years ago. The present successful radio school is an outgrowth of that project, and now rates as the world's largest. Enquiries may be addressed to the school at 135 Adelaide St. E., Toronto 1.

CHRISTMAS IN AUGUST

Christmas in August!—thats quite a dodge
But that's what happened at the Old Mill lodge.
Santa arrived in a Chevrolet
Instead of the long out-moded sleigh.
His pack was brimming with presents for all.
And a Christmas dinner in the dining hall.

Anyone driving into the parking lot at the Old Mill lodge, Carnarvon, Ont., on Thursday, August 18, would hardly believe their eyes. Such a sight! A Christmas tree in natural setting, well decorated with ornaments of all kinds; a crowd of interested spectators and Santa Claus himself in full regalia sitting in a big white chair, distributing presents to all.

The occason was the fifth annual "Christmas in the summer" at the Old Mill and from comments of those present it was the best one yet but already plans are being laid for an even bigger and better one next year.

Two days before the event, names are drawn and Christmas shopping begins, storekeepers frantically search for long put-away wrappings, cards, etc., and gifts (under 35c). Silver paper from cigarettes and candy bars is collected for making tree ornaments and excitement runs high.

After the traditional Christmas dinner of turkey with all the trimmings and ending wih mincemeat pie, all gather around the outdoor tree and carols sung while awaiting the arrival of Santa.

Finally he was driven into the parking lot with his big bell ringing and his hearty laugh filling the air. After a few words with his devotees —and who isn't—he distributed the beautifully wrapped [illegible] of which provoked screams of glee, and then he was on his way back to the north pole, while the gathering sang "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow."

TUBERCULOSIS Is Big Business

In Canada there are 20,000 patients in our Sanatoria—for over a year each.

For every patient, there are at least two more persons employed to fight the disease, directly and indirectly.

If these people — now in the "employ" of tuberculosis—earn $50.00 a week average, the annual payroll is $150 million! That is a brisk business for a bunch of "bugs"!

Save this money—put the bugs out of work.

WEDDING

Sampson—Austin

The summer home of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Austin at [illegible] Lake, Minden, was the scene of a very pretty candle light service, uniting in marriage their only daughter, Joanne May, to William Boyd Sampson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sampson of Toronto.

The living room was beautifully decorated with multi-colored gladioli for the ceremony at which the Rev. Harold Parr officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a natural shade linen suit with turquoise blouse and matching shade feather hat. She wore a corsage of tiger orchids.

Yvonne Harrison, bridesmaid to Joanne, wore a blue suit with beige accessories and a corsage of pink rose buds.

Frank James of Toronto was best man.

The bride's mother received in a cinnamon shade dress with matching accessories and wore a yellow rose bud and white stephanotis corsage. The groom's mother assisted wearing navy blue with matching corsage.
